

HINDUS SHED BLOOD IN SUPPORT OF THE SPH

I. Revival of KAILASA

Ever since the beginning of public life and His spiritual mission for humanity, around 1996, the SPH Nithyananda Paramashivam has been tirelessly working for the creation of KAILASA – the Hindu nation – Hindu Rashtra. This is one of the big reasons why Hindumisic elements want to exterminate the SPH. The vision of KAILASA involved the revival of 56 enlightened civilizational Hindu nations of South Asia, serving the more than 1.2 billion indigenous Hindu people of the planet. Further, the vision of KAILASA was of uniting people of 700 indigenous nations from six continents that do not have representation in the United Nations, under Uniting Nations of KAILASA, thus serving more than 2.3 billion indigenous people of the planet that comprise 25% of all mankind and have been the victims of some of the worst genocides, massacres, and persecution at the hands of modern religions and terrorist political ideologies. To this end, the SPH Nithyananda Paramashivam, traveled around the world building diplomatic ties with various leaders. The SPH worked tirelessly uniting people towards world peace by conducting various programs around the world in several countries, giving discourses on Hindu scriptures, initiating people into indigenous Hindu lifestyle, conducting conferences, prayers, meditation programs, etc. The SPH spread His mission in 33 countries in mere four years and more than 50 countries in ten years.

Since 2003, KAILASA's Temples and monasteries led by the SPH Nithyananda Paramashivam have been serving more than 3 million¹ free organic meals every month. KAILASA offers Anna Daan (charitable food service) to everyone without discrimination and has cumulatively served over 1 billion² free meals in total over the past two decades. The SPH Nithyananda Paramashivam has inspired thousands of devotees and volunteers and has worked hard to serve mankind during natural calamities and saved millions³ of human lives through various disaster relief works such as during the 2012 Thane cyclone⁴ and blood donation camps⁵.

One of the biggest grassroots movements that the SPH Nithyananda Paramashivam had led were peace marches from the Southern tip of India to the North covering 3200 Kilometers on foot. These peace marches had reached their peak in 2009, and millions of Hindus and indigenous people had joined this spiritual movement.

II. Roots of persecution

Since 2003, the Hindumisic deep state had commissioned the state intelligence department to snoop the SPH, and Hindumisic elements made several attempts at assassinating the SPH Nithyananda Paramashivam. Particularly since 2010, several attempts were made to silently assassinate the SPH and make these planned assassinations falsely look like an accident or fateful death. These assassination attempts were normalized by a massive smear campaign, involving slanderous hate speech, defamation, and inciting hatred towards the SPH. The smear campaign ran for more than 14,000 hours of airtime. The purpose of the physical assassination attempts was to destroy the body of the SPH, however, the purpose of the hate propaganda was to wipe the memory, love, gratitude, feeling connection, and all feelings of sympathy or empathy from the hearts of all practicing Hindus and disciples for the SPH and Guru Paramapara. The attack was not just on the Guru that is the SPH Nithyananda Paramashivam but was aimed to delegitimize Hinduism by attacking the core foundational principle of Hinduism of Guru-disciple relationship.

III. Lawfare and Illegal arrest of the SPH

On 4 March 2010, Hindumisic deep state elements fabricated false accusations on the Supreme Pontiff of Hinduism charging Him with rape without mentioning anybody as a victim of rape. The preposterous false rape case was and still is the only rape case in the world where rape was alleged, but there was no victim specified in the complaint as to who was raped or even might have been raped! The Hindumisic deep state rogue elements that had plotted this crime, lied in the court and created a situation where the SPH could not secure bail and was illegally arrested. In the High Court of Karnataka, on 25 March 2010, the SPH's anticipatory bail was denied citing "apprehension of the petitioner is unfounded", which meant that the court found no basis on which the SPH could be arrested therefore He did not need anticipatory bail⁶.

⁶ 25 March 2010 - <https://www.deccanherald.com/content/60078/hc-rejects-nithyananda-advance-bail.html>

However, on 21st April 2010, in Ramanagara district Court the bail application of the SPH was again rejected in the court as the state police had lied in the court stating they had already arrested the SPH (which was not true) and claimed since the SPH was already arrested the anticipatory bail application was invalid. Around two hours later, with the help of the intelligence department⁷, a different team of police officers entered the house where the SPH was staying in Solan (Himachal Pradesh, India) and illegally arrested Him by shamelessly lying and giving false information to the court.

IV. Cruel, inhumane, denigrating custodial torture of the SPH

During the illegal period of arrest, the SPH was subjected to cruel, inhumane, denigrating treatment and custodial torture. On 22 Apr 2010, at 9 PM, District Hospital Ramanagara, the SPH was subjected to the first medical torture by inhumane arbitrary medical tests where witness accounts record that an excessive amount of blood was withdrawn in the name of testing⁸. When the doctor was repeatedly asked why so much blood was required, the doctor only replied it was not required. The SPH was also injected with some unknown substances. This was followed by the SPH being unable to see properly⁹, stand or relate with people. In such conditions, the SPH was left to sit on a floor covered with urine water. As per eyewitness accounts, the police told that excessive withdrawal of blood would be stopped only if the SPH accepted the false charges. The police forced the SPH in different ways to give a false confession against Himself. Different officers took turns in torturing and continuously lied to convince Him to give a false confession. As they were unable to force a false confession, the police officers ridiculed SPH and demanded that they receive healing as they had got tired of grilling Him and should also receive professional medical support. This was reported by multiple newspaper articles mocking the SPH, and normalizing this violence in society. Even a High Court judge during a hearing remarked at the police, "Under the guise of suspicion, how long can you \(police\) torture a person \(referring to the SPH\)"¹⁰.

The Police torture (narrated to media as "grilling" by Police) involved bombarding SPH with powerful lights and loud shrill noises (of tile cutting machine) to inflict extreme physical and mental pain. This was done to psychologically weaken Him and make Him give a false confession about a crime that never happened and He never committed. Throughout the day the SPH continued to be subjected to cruel, inhumane and degrading treatment by different police officers (taking turns) to coerce a false confession. Later during the night, the CID would begin extremely loud construction work just a few feet away from the SPH cell where a high decibel tile cutting machine was installed which was used to cut tiles of asbestos. It had a shrill sound much worse than screaming, thereby depriving SPH of sleep or rest. The fine asbestos dust would fly towards SPH which is a known agent for causing mesothelioma (lung cancer) in the long term and which was intended to also assassinate SPH through asphyxiation.

The paper cover of the tile cutting machine was the only thing in the cell on which SPH could sit and warm His body from the cold urine-mixed-water on the cell floor. The SPH was often experiencing breathing issues and no medical support was provided. When the disciples requested for the change of cell, the prison officials told, 'This is a palace for the dog who will die in another few days.' There were no charges against the SPH, there were no victims¹¹, there was not even a cogent false charge that the police had finalized to force Him to falsely accept. The SPH was subjected to inhumane treatment with a sadistic inexplicable motive, in no connection to aid any investigation. Several times the body of the SPH was given poison through food and other means, and His body was subjected to harmful cancerous radiation during custody resulting in the death of the policeman who was interrogating Him.¹²

Monday morning, 26 April 2010, the SPH was forced into another medical torture in the name of what was officially termed as "a potency test", which was scheduled at the Institute of Nephro-Urology, Victoria Hospital. However, the so-called test was done under police custody at an undisclosed location¹³, instead of an equipped hospital despite security measures that were ordered by the Ramanagara Deputy Superintendent of Police already in place. This was reported by the media, however, all digital media records have been withdrawn, and only copies of the newspapers exist with the KAILASA archives and some libraries of the country. The police records of the event were also destroyed by the Police. Like every other day until then, excessive blood was withdrawn from SPH. He was not allowed to meet His disciples or Legal Counsel. Unknown substances were injected into the blood vessels of the SPH. The body of SPH was sexually and physically abused. He was given no rest and taken to court where he reached at around 4 PM. A few of the disciples were able to see the SPH from far and recollect that the SPH was looking very different, He appeared exhausted but was still wearing a smile and blessing them from far. In the court when the SPH was standing in the witness box, He maintained His composure despite the acute genital and chest pain. He was profusely sweating. The judge noticed this and got alarmed and ordered immediate medical attention to be given to the SPH.

V. Courts order release – but suppress freedom of speech of the SPH

From 30 Apr 2010, the SPH was transferred and kept in the Ramanagara Prison.

The matter in the case of illegal arrest and torture of the SPH Nithyananda Paramashivam in 2010 was not of mere Police brutality. There were no victims or people who claimed to have suffered any physical or mental harm due to the SPH, but the state police had put charges of rape on the SPH, without having anybody as a victim for several months. The state police justified the illegal arrest alleging they suspected somebody might have been raped and kept prolonging the period of the arrest¹⁴ of the SPH citing their suspicion. The High Court of Karnataka took a serious exception for the fact that the State police fabricated charges of rape against the SPH dragging the proceedings for six months¹⁵, after which the Police only claimed that there were no witnesses or evidence to sustain the charges¹⁶. Additionally, the State Police made public appeals for witnesses¹⁷ to come forward and make statements against the SPH. Even going to the extent of publicly advertising a monetary bribe/reward if they did so.¹⁸ Despite all these efforts, the police could not produce any witnesses or victims to the court. On 11 Jun 2010, the State Police simply submitted a memo of Status Report to the High Court of Karnataka clearly stating that they had no witnesses or victims of rape.

The High Court was aware of the police torture done to the SPH Nithyananda Paramashivam. During a court hearing the judge asked the State executive, *"Under the guise of suspicion, how long can you (police) torture a person mentally"*¹⁹. Despite the knowledge of the police brutality the unwillingness or inability of the judiciary to prevent or condemn torture is apparent as the court never pointed out that torture (even mental) was inhumane, cruel, or even possibly illegal. Contrary to this, internationally, even the mental well-being of an under-trial is seen as a matter of great concern, one of the grounds citing which the US appeal to extradite Julian Assange was rejected by a UK Court in 2021.²⁰

On 11 June 2010, The Hon'ble High Court of Karnataka while hearing the bail petition of SPH Bhagavan Sri Nithyananda Paramashivam in its order Crl. P. 2328/2010²¹ observed the undue media influence against SPH Bhagavan Sri Nithyananda Paramashivam, mentioning it in point number 13 (page number 12) as an "issue" (propaganda) which "was subsidized (funded) by the media." Despite making the observations, the High Court inexplicably suspended the freedom of speech of the SPH. The SPH was forbidden by the court to impart any religious teachings other than conducting yoga classes. The suspension of the fundamental human right to freedom of speech by the court disabled the SPH from being able to speak anything about the torture done to Him in prison. This gag order was specifically given to systematically disable the SPH from being able to seek any form of remedy from torture or protection from attempts to assassinate Him. This was ridiculed in the media, where it said - the court has gagged the godman²².

VI. Millions of Hindus shed blood and tears in support

Soon after the release of the SPH from illegal imprisonment, on 24 July 2010²³, practicing Hindus and disciples of the SPH gathered to observe the Hindu festival of Guru Purnima. Thousands of devotees and direct disciples of the SPH came walking from various states of India. Some devotees came walking from Tiruvannamalai to Bidadi the headquarters, over a distance of 250 KMs barefoot raising voices against the religious and political persecution of the SPH, His community, and Hinduism at large.

23 July 2010: 100,000 devotees and disciples of the SPH Nithyananda Paramashivam walk hundreds of kilometers with placards demanding their religious rights, and calling to stop the abuse on the Hindu faith and their Gurus.

However, the voices of the disciples and two billion practicing Hindus demanding fair trial and human rights for their beloved Guru the SPH Nithyananda Paramashivam fell on deaf ears and the persecution of the SPH Nithyananda Paramashivam continued.

On 11 Jun 2010, the State Police simply submitted a memo of Status Report to the High Court of Karnataka clearly stating that they had no witnesses or victims of rape. Despite the police not having any victims of rape, the police still kept on dragging the case and tried all means to frame the SPH Nithyananda Paramashivam on false charges, such as (1) unlawfully²⁴ freezing²⁵ the bank accounts of the public charitable trusts of the temples and monasteries spiritually headed by the SPH so that no legal aid could be sought for and the SPH could be kept in jail until the police could break His spirit by torture, (2) unlawfully impounded the passport of the SPH though not just the police even courts cannot impound the passport of a person per law,²⁶ (3) the state police would enter the monastery without authorization and physically assault international volunteers and sexually molest female Hindu nuns pressurizing the nuns to give false statements against the SPH.

The legal counsel of the SPH applied for quashing this false case.²⁷ This false case was just about to be quashed, the police kept begging the court for a time extension, and finally, the last moment the police filed a false charge sheet covering up the matter stating that though the charge sheet was filed the investigation was still underway. Until the police submitted to the court closure of all investigations, the quash petition could not have proceeded in the court. The CID took almost

Can you share something about what you thought about the press meet today Ayya? Sure, for me I think it left me with real strength of this strong injustice that is done against Swamiji, and also the religious persecution, that is being done. For a very good sense of it, not just from what he said, and has told us earlier, but also the new proof that was given as the part of the press meet today, a lot of statements have been made, just reinforced my belief that there is a lot of stuff that has, the truth has to come out, and what we have seen so far is nowhere close to being the truth. I feel very strong in terms of my support for Swamiji and the mission, and this has strengthened it even more. And I really hope that the truth comes out very soon, and everyone in the world sees what's that all about.

Nithyanandam, Thank you.

Ma do you have anything to say about the press meet today?

Yes ma, I hope authorities give back Swami's passport soon. We want Him, we want Swami in Singapore very soon.

Thank you, Nithyanandam.
